Hide Frontpage Article Area

Written by Administrator
Friday, 12 August 2011 18:37 - Last Updated Saturday, 13 August 2011 14:48

Did you ever need to create a page where this is no article present or no component to be shown, and only load modules? This template makes it all possible! From the template configuration page you can hide the main content area on any page on the site.

Below is a screenshot of this function from the configuration page, found under the General tab: